BAREILLY VIOLENCE

against 2,000 people, several of them unidentified. Thirty-nine people have been arrested in the case so far. Officers also said internet services in the area had been suspended, saying social media users tried to incite violence on Friday.

Responding to the developments, chief minister Yogi Adityanath said "a maulana in Bareilly forgot who holds power in the state" and assumed "he could disrupt the system at will." "We made it clear that there will be no tolerance towards such acts and be said at an event in Lucknow."

Deputy inspector general of police (Bareilly Range) Ajay Kumar Sahai said that social media was used to gather people and incite violence. "A large number of weapons and stones were recovered from the protesters. Several of them were fired at and stones were also peleted... 22 policemen have been injured. Empty shells, cartridges, pistols, and broken glass bottles have been recovered from the protest site," he added.

Police said large crowds holding "I Love Muhammad" posters gathered on the site before the strike and near the mosque, particularly in the Kotwali area, after Friday prayers, with people expressing anger over the suspension of the demonstration. People aware of the matter said Khan made a last-minute announcement on the demands, saying the authorities did not grant permission.

On Thursday, the cleric had warned that the demonstration would go ahead "at any cost".

Adityanath said that the action taken by his government will serve as a lesson.

"The lesson we have taught will make future generations think twice before indulging in riots. What kind of way is this to stop governance? Before 2017, this was the norm in UP, but since 2017, we haven't even allowed this to happen again. Uttar Pradesh's story of development begins here," he added.

The CM also launched a sharp attack on previous governments alleging that rioters were welcomed, professional criminals and misafars were saluted by those in power. "They were given shiny hands with their dogs. You must have seen how the head of the government felt proud shaking hands with a mafia's dog," he added.

Initially, Khan was placed under house arrest, but was moved to an undisclosed location. Police said Khan and his supporters are also examining videos of Khan and his supporters to ascertain their role in the violence. Senior superintendent of police Anurag Arora confirmed his arrest on Saturday.

On Friday night, Adityanath held a video conference with senior officials and directed them to take strict action against those involved in the unrest.

Khan, the founder of IMC, has been politically active for over two decades with some influence in Bareilly and nearby districts. He is also the direct descendant of Ahmed Raza Khan, the founder of the Dewaniya sect of Ismaili Islam, one of the most prominent sects in the sub-continent. Violence unfolded outside a small mosque adjoining the Islamia ground in the city and near the Darbar-e-Ali Hazrat, the most revered shrine for the followers of the Barelvi sect.

As crowds attempted to march towards the Islamia Inter College ground, police tried to stop them at Khalil Tiraha, triggering stone pelting and vandalism of vehicles and shops by the demonstrators.

BSNL 4G sha, will gain access across remote, border and Left-wing extremism-affected areas. The infrastructure will serve over 20 lakh new subscribers.

The towers are solar-powered and will reduce the energy cluster of green telecom sites and advancing sustainable infrastructure goals, officials told HT on Friday.

Modi also unveiled India's 100 per cent 4G networking network comprising 18,933 towers, through Digital Bharat Nidhi. These 18,900+ 4G towers are India's largest cluster of green teleco sites and a significant step toward sustainable digital infrastructure. Under DBN, seven projects have been awarded to private PSUs like Reliance Jio, Airtel and four projects to BSNL.

From today, Assam's last village will be connected with the rest of the world. Our 'first village' in Arunachal Pradesh will be connected to the world market. Farmers will be directly linked with markets and patients with a doctor. Telecom connectivity is a doctor's lifeblood," he said.

The minister asserted that "India will lead the world in 5G network connectivity" with the indigenous 4G stack designed for future upgrades.

As the technology is upgradeable to 5G, trials for testing 5G RAN and 5G NSA core functionality have already begun in Assam and Arunachal and underway.

For BSNL, celebrating its silver jubilee, the launch represents a potential turning moment. According to Friday's government briefing, the operator has shown recent quarterly profits after years of losses, with subscriber numbers rising and the network already handling significant traffic loads.

Sindia drew parallels with India's recent achievements: "Be it producing vaccines during Covid pandemic or becoming a leader in UPI transactions, India has turned challenges into opportunities." He said the 4G stack is a celebration in this line of achievement and proves that 'Atmanirbhar Bharat' is a reality.
